This report has been written with the A "comfort girl" is nothing more than a prostitute or "professional camp follower" attached to the Japanese Army for the benefit of the soldiers

The following is also written as.

While in Burma they amused themselves by participating in sports events with both officers and men, and attended picnics, entertainments, and social dinners.

The girls were allowed the prerogative of refusing a customer.

In the latter part of 1943 the Army issued orders that certain girls who had paid their debt could return home.

Considering from these descriptions so-called comfort women is probably is not should be expressed as sex slaves.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Takafumi Kanno
